

Washington Hospital Center Cancer Institute

A cancer patient's course of treatment can follow many paths, whether hospital or home treatment, or through clinical trials offering promising new treatments. Washington Hospital Center Cancer Institute brings together a committed, experienced staff, state-of-the-art equipment, and the latest medical advancements, all dedicated to meeting the special needs of each patient.

The breadth of WHC Cancer Institute's services and the quality of its cancer care are but two reasons that the Advisory Board's Oncology Roundtable cited Washington Cancer Institute as one of the most innovative and progressive cancer centers in the US.

Proceeds from the Drive Fore the Cure and the 5K Run benefit cancer research and patient care programs at Washington Hospital Center Cancer Institute!

A Story to Share...

I was diagnosed with Leiomyosarcoma, a rare cancer. After my surgery, other institutions advised to wait and see if my cancer grew back and only then would they work with me. A friend arranged an appointment with the Washington Cancer Institute at Washington Hospital Center. There my doctor told me about a clinical research study that might help me. My thinking was that even if it doesn't work for me, it's providing information that might help someone else. I decided to do it. Everyone, my research doctors, nurses, technicians, and staff have been magnificent!

You can't give up. You have to have a positive attitude. Research is important; it may not help my generation but it can help future generations in the fight against cancer. I believe I am alive and healthy today thanks to the research that is conducted at Washington Cancer Institute at Washington Hospital Center.
